ABOUT

As an Institutional Sales at Forex, I provide unparalleled access to digital asset solutions for VIP clients and institutions. I have been working in the sales-related industry for nearly four years, and I value honesty, trust, and customer-centricity in all the services I offer. I help the company leverage their data as strategic assets to drive their business more successfully.

BACKGROUND

I am also pursuing a Bachelor of Technology in Business Analytics from the National University of UK, where I learn how to apply data-driven techniques and tools to solve real-world problems. I have a keen interest in enterprise architecture, digital transformation, regulatory compliance, and aerospace.

I am also an active member of the Toastmaster Club, where I enhance my communication and leadership skills. Additionally, I have experience in FxEmpire and fund management, where I gained exposure to the global financial markets.
